

Hymn to the Great Central Sun

Great Central Sun, thou art the One,
That all the worlds adore!
Enfold us in the beams of love,
That from your heart now pour.

Shine on, shine on, O lovely light,
Make all our darkness flee!
You fill our hearts with great delight,
And make our minds to see.

O Helios and Vesta come,
With fire our souls refine!
Now melt our fears and burn our strife,
Till we become divine.

Expand, O holy threefold flame,
And spin our hearts of fire,
As we invoke in I AM name,
The oneness we desire.

When we ascend, Almighty God,
Bright shining as the sun,
We'll sing your praise eternally,
With you forever one.

All glory to the sun above,
And to the sun below.
All glory to the three-in-one,
From whom all life does flow.
