

I'll Always Love You, Saint Germain

I'll always love you, Saint Germain,
For I am thine and thou art mine;
You chase away my fears and pain,
Your gracious heart with mine entwines.

You are radiating peace and love,
So intimate, tender and oh, so sweet;
You call me back to your heart above.
We walk and talk as one complete.

I sense your need; I feel your desire.
Your light and presence fill my life.
I see your face! My heart's on fire!
My soul is free. There is no more strife.
