

25. To My Valentine

(Love Song to My Twin Flame)

O holy lover of my soul,
Before earth's ages spread
Across the calendars of time,
Before these lives we've led,
We were created from one Source,
And with one mission true.
You wooed me 'though I had forgot
The memory of you.

Chorus

O Valentine, my Valentine,
My heart o'erflows with song.
You've been right here, so very near
As ages rolled along.

I call to you, my love, today.
Please take me by the hand.
Walk with me and serve with me,
Inspire me to command
The power of God to recreate
A heaven here on earth
Where all remember who they are
And know their holy birth.

O what a plan conceived by Love
From one sun there came two
That love would grow, expand and flow,
Divine romance ensue.
Now, my beloved, let us work
Together day by day
Until our flames are one great flame—
God's firework display!

Think on what it will mean to merge fully as ascended beings with your twin flames. This is a dynamic that is stupendous. For when the diode of the dual becoming one in heaven is manifest, there is a cosmic oneness that spreads almost like what you see during a hydrogen bomb splitting on earth in its spiritual effect of light.

—Beloved Lanello, Sept. 16, 2006