

The Hearts Center Community

December 25, 2008

Dear Heartfriends,

The Christmas angels congregate! And day by day the attention of Christians everywhere in ways great and small turns to the Master Jesus. There is a setting aside of time for the giving of gifts in his name. Expressions of love and good will criss-cross the United States and countries around the world. Cards and emails send greetings and reminders to revisit the Bethlehem miracle. What a magical and mystical time of year this is.

As students of the wisdom teachings, we are blessed beyond telling to know the living Christ, not only in beloved Jesus and in each ascended master but within our very beings. For us, the Bethlehem miracle takes on a multi-faceted depth and breadth of meaning. Consider the placement and cosmic history Jesus and that of each supporting player—Saint Joseph, Mother Mary, the Wise Men, the humble shepherds. Consider the teaching that we embrace—that the Christ who lived in Jesus is the Christ who lives in every man, woman and child.

This is the Christmas message that we must share far and wide. In Jesus' HeartStream from December 22, 2007, he declares,

This is the Great Commission—to go forth and to multiply light, to seed that light throughout the experience of our lives for and on behalf of many souls ....

...[T]he song of the Christ is the same worlds without end. And that song is joy! Each Christmas season as you sing with the angels your songs of joy, your spirit rises to once again partake of the sacred essences of those angelic presences who would ennoble you with greater light, greater understanding of how that light may manifest within your world and of how you, as a noble one, also may fulfill the mandate of beingness and the Great Commission as a Christed One yourself....

As we approach the end of 2008, we, The Hearts Center Council, desire to express our profound gratitude in the name of the ascended masters for your sacrificial support. We think of the time, energy and finances that you have given this year that have allowed us to hold the Chicago New Year's Conference, the Easter Conference at Wellspring, the July Conference in Big Sky, events in Seattle and Sweden, the India Pilgrimage; that have kept our website up and running; that have supported our messenger and the building of sustainable communities in the months ahead; and so much more.

Directives from the ascended master continue. The work of The Hearts Center is full speed ahead. Yes, we are living in tentative economic times, and yet Jesus has given us a key for the victory of the mission. And it is this—the replenishing of our joy! Joy is our victory. Joy is our abundant supply—of light and of meeting every practical need.

So as we look forward to our 2009 victories, we thank you in advance for your continuing support in every way through the alchemy of joy! Let us not be burdened by outer circumstances but with the Christ sing the song of joy to the world this Christmas season and beyond!

Your good fortune is a direct result of how much joy you bring others and regularly deliver to the world.

—Jesus, December 22, 2007, Jewel of Joy #352
