Why recreate Eden?
• We will be reconnected with nature and the Creator.
• Life will be simpler & easier. Less stress, hurry, division.
• We will have our own live, organic food close at hand within our own Kin Domain and Space of Love.

How do we recreate Eden?
• Use permaculture principles. Use local resources.
• Partner with others of like heart and mind.
• Repopulate the Earth with forests, where many will be food forests with ample fruit, nuts, berries and seeds.
• Plant trees, either young ones from organic nurseries, from root stock or from seed to be grafted later.

Meru University hosts “Anastasia in the Garden” classes in Montana each summer solstice on our 5.8-acre property just outside Livingston, Montana.

2. Grow your own organic food on your own property (kin domain, space of love)
3. Work with others to establish cooperatives and sustainable communities
4. Positively influence local villages, towns and cities to adopt green practices to bring all into balance with Mother Nature.

Why “Spiritual Initiates”?

Initiates are those who take action, who initiate new cycles of light, love and higher consciousness. They don’t sit back and wait for others to inspire them. They inspire others through their vision and through focused, determined, decisive practical work, service and givingness.
Recreating Eden

Person by person and community by community we must take positive action to do our part in recreating Eden on Earth. Find others with whom you can work to plant local community gardens, transition back (and front) yards into gardens and use larger acreage to invest in your future through nature’s offerings. Next Earth Day plant a local food forest with friends, like Amish communities have barn-raisings.
